Last month, the prime Minister stood outside Number 10 Downing Street in the rain and made the announcement that he would be calling a General Election on the 4th July.

It seems rather fitting for the backdrop of this to be pouring rain when we have experienced the sixth wettest April in the UK since records began. While scientists are reluctant to attribute single weather events to climate change, there is little doubt that this unprecedented wet stretch is the product of a heating planet. It underscores the reality that if the UK is to meet its international obligations on climate and nature, the election will have to be a turning point for the environment.

So, as the election approaches, all parties need to decide whether their legacy will be rising to the moment and kickstarting a greener and fairer future, or failure to act on an existential crisis.

As for us, we can respond first in prayer, asking for wisdom for our leaders and bringing our lament in species loss and climate injustices to God. We can use our voice as voters. We can make the issues close to our, and God's heart known to parliamentary candidates and use our democratic right to demand better.

Meet our new Circuit Mission Enablers

Nicola Fawcett – Burton, Bentham, Ingleton & Newby

I have lived in this area for 36 years, since I married Andrew a local dairy farmer.

During this time, I have worked predominantly in various schools, specialising in the SENCo sector. Andrew & I have been blest with three sons and four grandchildren.

Together we have run the Youth group at Ingleton Methodist Church and various house groups during the 29 years we have attended.

Personally, I have organised Ladies' evenings, Men's Quiz evenings, Pantomimes, Bouncy Castle Events, Afternoon teas and helped with Ingleton Gala.

All these events have been extremely successful, that is due to the enthusiasm of our church family supporting each event in a professional, generous way creating a loving environment. Attendance to all these events has been good and we are seeing familiar faces, and it would be good to provide them with regular Church based events.

Lots of ideas are either being shared by church family or God has prompted thoughts about some new avenues we could together explore to further develop relationships in the church & community to share Jesus' love for everyone.

I am looking forward to working alongside each church, to help you as individual fellowships to implement your dreams, hopes & visions to see growth in relationships and faith.

Chevonne Womack – Settle & Hellifield

My name is Chevonne Womack and I live in Giggleswick with my husband, Jonathan, and our 16-month-old daughter, Elizabeth. Originally, I'm from South Africa, where I was born and raised, and my husband is from East Anglia, but we have lived in Giggleswick for almost 3 years. We're enjoying our time here in Yorkshire, especially exploring the Dales in our free time.

I have worked in schools in various academic and pastoral roles, and I love working with children. I'm excited to continue doing this in a Christian capacity, showing them the love of Jesus. The bulk of my time in this new role will be spent reaching out to the youth and young families in our communities, but I will be coming along to some of the services and events in the church so I should get a chance to meet you all in person eventually.
